

PROFILE

A life-long movement artist and teacher, Roberta has been a devoted yogini since her pregnancy, twenty years ago.

Her classes thoughtfully and dynamically combine pranayama, asana and meditation, bringing practitioners closer to the ancient richness of yoga as a way of being and living.

Roberta teaches hatha, vinyasa, restorative and yin classes. She offers accessible classes open to the community in English or Spanish. With the goal of fostering the well-being of immigrants and socially marginalized groups, she also leads healing yoga workshops addressing the trauma generated by ethnoracial, gender, sexual and socioeconomic violence while building personal and collective resilience.
